

GRAPES to Attend ECCE 2011

In September 2011, GRAPES members from both the University of Arkansas and the University of South Carolina will attend ECCE 2011 in Phoenix, Arizona. The conference will run from September 17 through September 22 and the exposition, at which GRAPES will be hosting a booth, will run on September 19th and 20th. More than 30 corporate and academic exhibitors are scheduled to participate in the Exposition, which includes a banquet where students will present posters of their work for industry professionals to view and critique.
